Van Lanschot launches discretionary management app

Access to investment portfolio anywhere, anytime

's-Hertogenbosch, 24 August 2016

For investors, it's key to stay on top of the latest developments in the markets and to have insight into how their portfolios are performing. Anytime and wherever they go. Van Lanschot's new discretionary management app enables them to do just that – available today for iOS and Android.

Van Lanschot's clients can use the app to monitor their portfolios at any time convenient to them, as well as track the breakdown of their wealth across asset classes and regions. The app also features the views of Van Lanschot's investment specialists on current economic developments and the markets.

The app is available to download from the App Store or Google Play from today. Once downloaded, clients will be able to link their portfolios to the app online. Watch the video to find out how Van Lanschot's asset management app works.

The launch of Van Lanschot's discretionary management app is a next step in its drive to expand its omnichannel service provision for Private Banking clients, announced in its April strategy update and encompassing an investment programme to support personalised services through digital channels. The next few months will also see Van Lanschot refresh its online banking environment and launch an interactive investment advice app for its clients.
